Dear Dr. Li,

Congratulations on the opening of Valley Obesity Medicine & Diabetes. As you prepare to welcome your first patients, I want to extend my heartfelt best wishes for success in this important and deeply impactful work.

Your mission goes far beyond launching a new clinic; it introduces a transformational way of thinking about health. By approaching obesity as a complex medical condition rooted in biology rather than willpower, you bring dignity, science, and hope to individuals who have long struggled, often in silence, with the weight of both their health and societal judgment.

As you cut the ribbon and begin this journey, I do not doubt that Valley Obesity Medicine & Diabetes will become a place of transformation, healing, and renewed hope for our community.

I'm confident your vision to combine science, compassion, and partnership will not only improve health outcomes but also change lives in the most meaningful way.

Wishing you and your entire team success as you open your doors and begin this important work. Our community is fortunate to have you here.
